

SPARQL Bot: a Spoken Dialog System for Knowledge Base Generation, Querying, and Inference

Will Kearns

University of Washington

kearnsw@uw.edu

1 Introduction

Knowledge Base generation and maintenance is often a time consuming task that prohibits long-term use of these resources. SPARQL Bot is a project that seeks to alleviate some of the repetitive overhead of curating these resources by accepting natural language commands to add to, and amend an ontology.

2 Background

3 Results